FOREWORD

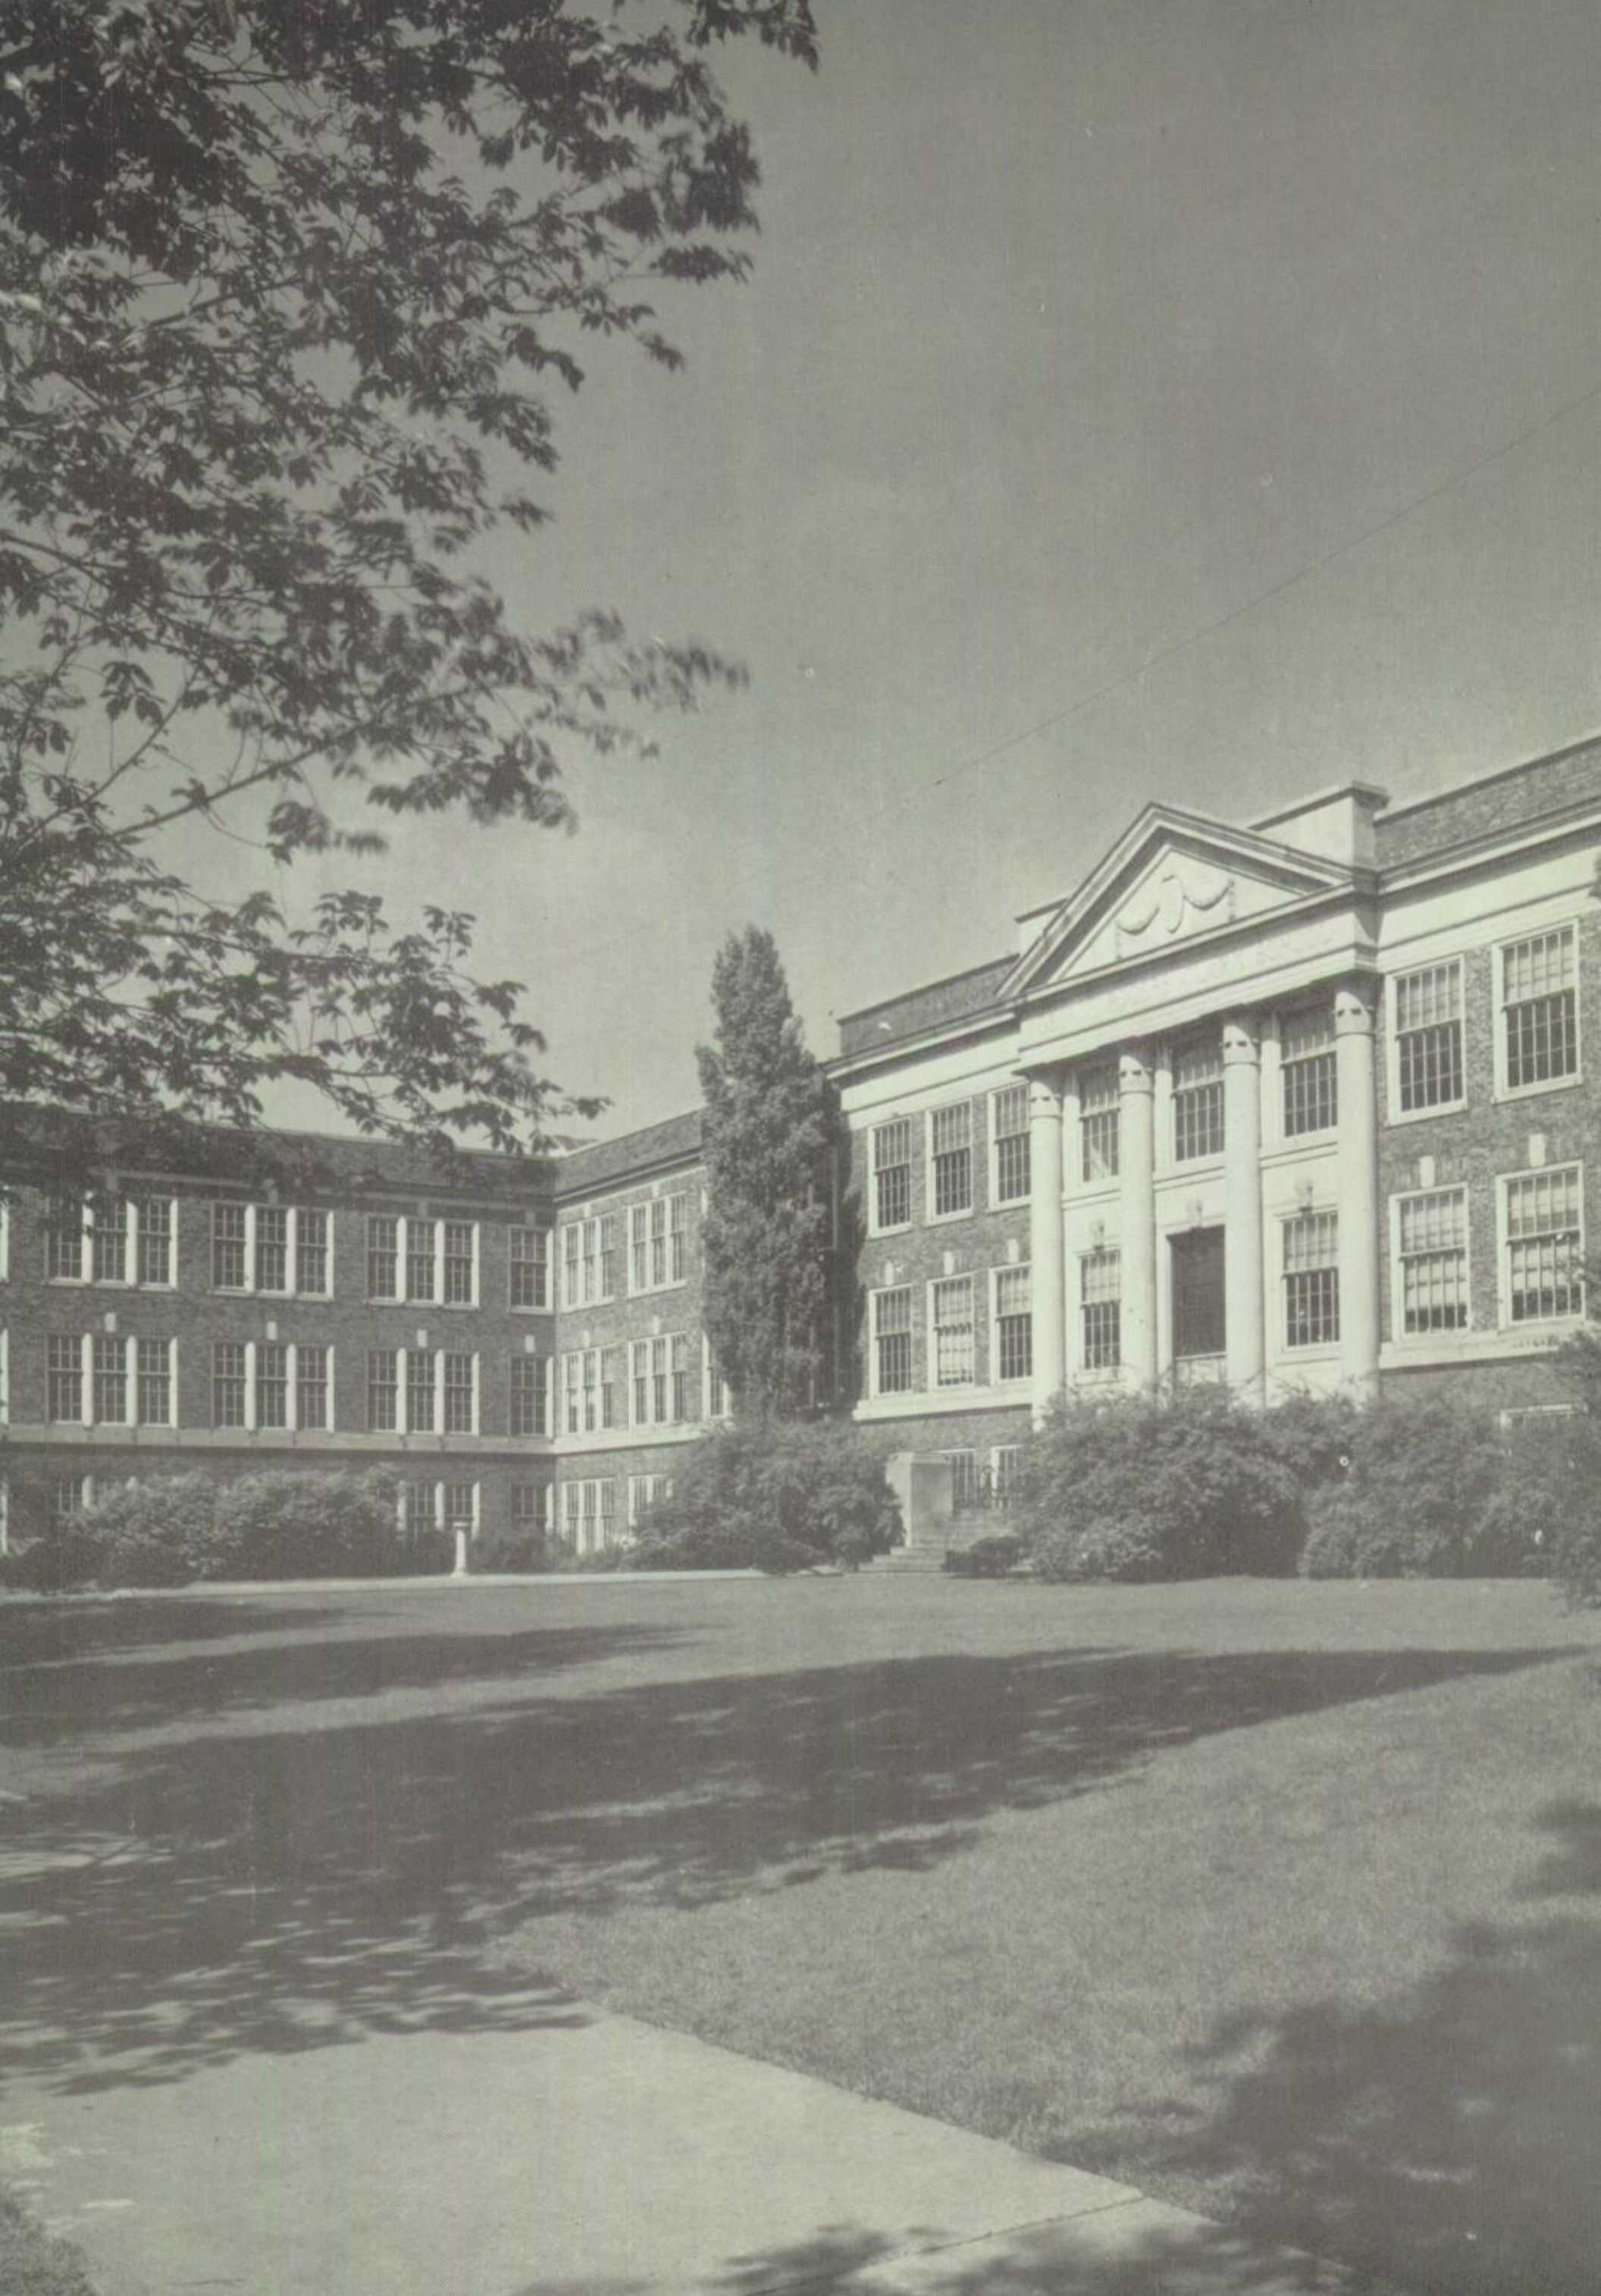

Entertainment and education for the future!

With this as the theme of television, to provide the young men and women of tomorrow, the students of today, with new ideas and surroundings, the world marches on into the future.

The world of tomorrow will see this great invention, which has gained the attention of scientists for many years, put to many new and better uses. New distances will be conquered. Better programs will be presented. Historical events will be offered as they happen. Education and entertainment will be provided for the students.

To those who have pioneered in this great scientific field of television since 1884, and to those, the students of today who will be the future citizens of the world of tomorrow, our Powder Horn is dedicated.

All classes at Clark have a threefold purpose: to promote individual character, to help students gain in social experience through working with classmates, and to serve the school by their efforts as a whole. The sense of responsibility developed in each student is of prime importance.

Vital experiences gained in high school class events may later help to improve world conditions. A feeling of cooperation between students results in successful class activities that in turn benefit the entire school.

ADMINISTRATION

Our Principal

Mr. R. B. Miller

When major problems and difficulties arise, teachers and students alike of George Rogers Clark High School turn to Principal R. B. Miller for guidance. It is mainly through his perseverance that GRC has successfully become one of the region's outstanding high schools.

Mr. Miller is always ready to help students whenever they come to him with their problems. With his sound advice and friendly encouragement, he gives students confidence and ambition to attain greater heights.

During the school year, Mr. Miller was elected president of the Indiana Association of Secondary School Principals for the 1948-1949 term of office. His new duties will involve appointing activities, curriculum, and legislative committees, and taking charge of the two annual state conventions. He was also honored by being appointed to the Indiana School Study Commission which is represented by 56 leading educators and laymen. The purpose of this commission is to discover how well the Indiana schools are meeting educational needs and what changes should be made.

Principal of Clark for sixteen years, Mr. Miller is continually helping to make Clark students loyal and conscientious "citizens of tomorrow."

Guidance Counselors — Miss Pearl Yocham and Mr. Paul Wilkinson.

Office Staff — Miss Dolores Cross, Miss Ruth Hunter, Miss Donna Stumph.

Planning students' schedules, advising graduating seniors on their choices of vocations, and solving the hundred and one issues that arise daily are the tasks of Miss Pearl Yocham and Mr. Paul Wilkinson, guidance counselors. It is through their efforts that the school program is run so efficiently.

Miss Dolores Cross, Miss Ruth Hunter, and Miss Donna Stumph are in charge of the office and attend to the secretarial needs of the faculty and students. They are on the job daily performing their work with speed and skill.

The Board of School Trustees supervises the operating of the entire Hammond Public School System. The present board, under the leadership of Superintendent Lee L. Caldwell, include Mr. Walter Thornton, president; Mr. Charles N. Scott, secretary; Mr. Columbus Smith, treasurer; and Dr. Henry Eggers and Mr. Archie Spoerner, members-at-large.

There is no greater influence on the student than the teacher. Through daily association the teacher is able to shape and mould the mind of the student into specific channels of learning, teaching him the fundamental principles of good living which are so greatly needed in the world today.

In order that students may be able to acquire this basic knowledge, there must be adequate facilities for learning and also capable and experienced instructors to teach the students with wisdom and unprejudice.

George Rogers Clark High School is an outstanding example of this type of an educational institution where a good teaching staff plus suitable equipment are combined to produce the finished product . . . an adult who will be able to meet with intelligence and determination the numerous problems facing him.

Clark is known throughout the region for its excellent staff of teachers. The instructors give both their time and knowledge in helping the student to find a field of work in which he is interested and for which he is suited.

At the beginning of the first semester Clark saw the addition of two instructors to its teaching staff. Miss Loeta Walters succeeded Mr. Max W. Beaty as journalism and English teacher and sponsor of the Pioneer News and Powder Horn. George Hosek, replacing Mr. Henry Zevenhouse, taught shop and coached junior high athletics. Mr. Warren C. Reitzel took over Mr. Hosek's position in December.

Two women teachers came to Clark at the beginning of the second semester. They were Miss Alice Merritt, algebra and practical mathematics instructor and Miss Alice Marie Server, clothing teacher.

Besides its regular school work the faculty did not forget its outside activities. The teachers' annual banquet was held during Christmas, and their spring picnic took place in May.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Top Talent o o o

Twenty-two seniors and three juniors received the highly coveted appointments to the National Honor Society this year. These students, added to the six elected in their junior year, make a total of 31 in the NHS.

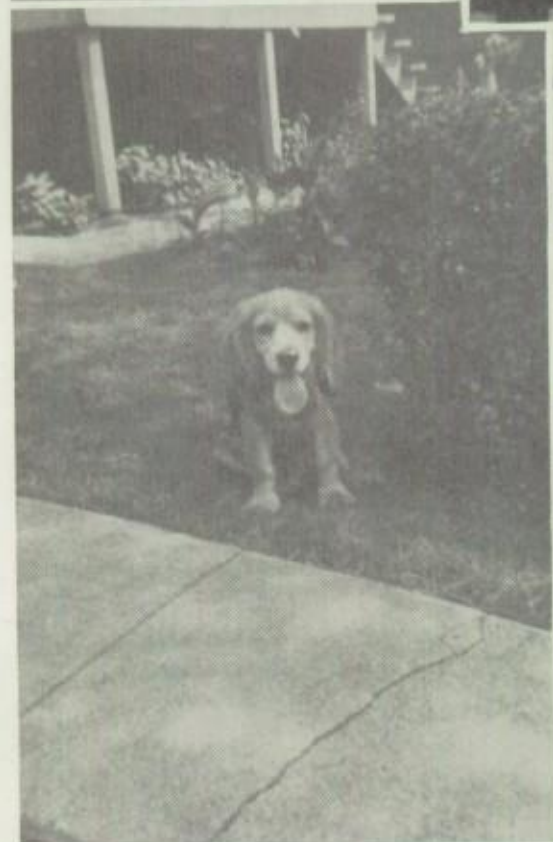

Among the factors considered in electing members are scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Each year the faculty chooses fifteen per cent of the Senior Class and five per cent of the Junior Class to join the organization, which is under the direction of Miss Pearl Yocham.

The six students chosen when they were juniors are Dorothy Adams, Mary Linda Burnett, secretary; Richard French, vice-president; Bob Hannemann, president; Don Hannemann, treasurer; and Eugenia Voreacos.

Annually the Harold Zimmer Award is given by the NHS to the outstanding senior boy on the basis of scholarship, athletic skill, and fine sportsmanship. Royal Isberg was elected to receive the honor this year.

The fall of '44 marked the entrance of the Class of '48 into the classrooms and activities of GRC. Beneath the guiding hand of Miss Carolyn Lambert, class sponsor, the "Freshies" began their careers by choosing Everett Levitt, president; Nancy McClaughry, vice president; Lillian Gasenica, secretary; and Ralph Porter, treasurer; to lead them.

As their initial effort, the class put on "The Starlit Lane," an all-school dance made distinctive by the unique decorations.

"The Jack Frost Frolic," a Thanksgiving dance, was held by the now experienced sophomores. The directing of activities this year was left to the capable hands of Clifford Kender, president; Bob Hannemann, vice-president; Mary Linda Burnett, secretary; and Sally Lou Creswell, treasurer.

Eugenia Voreacos was elected class historian to serve throughout the next two years. Committees were appointed to choose the class color, flower, and motto. Results were blue and white, color; white carnation, flower; and "Aim above the mark to hit it," motto.

1946

As the long-awaited junior year finally arrived, the class named Phil Wetnight, president; Bob Hannemann, vice-president; Bernadine Dolak, secretary; and Richard French, treasurer.

An unusual dance, "Movie Melody Premier," was presented with movies and music. This event was followed by another success, the Junior play, "The Clean-Up," a comedy in three acts.

The prom, "Aloha," given by the class on May 29, attracted the largest crowd in Clark's history.

For their final and most important year, the members of the class picked competent officers in the form of President George Mandas, Vice-President Arnold Studer, Secretary Lillian Gasenica, and Treasurer Bernadine Dolak.

The Senior class play, "Through the Night," a mystery thriller, was given before an enthusiastic audience. "Carousel," the annual class dance, was held in the spring and featured the music of Harold Morris and his orchestra.

DAR award winners were Mary Linda Burnett and Richard French.

Top-ranking seniors scholastically were Mary Linda Burnett, valedictorian, and Bob and Don Hannemann, co-salutarians.

After accumulating these noteworthy accomplishments in its four years, another class of GRC students leaves amid sad farewells to make its way in the world. Its record in the history of the school will be long-remembered.

Dear Senior Graduates,

It is hard to realize that four years have passed so quickly, and that you are now ready to leave Clark. I think I may tell you that I became your sponsor with some misgivings. The job seemed tremendous! But as I went along with you, it became easier because of your wonderful co-operation and pep. You have a way of putting things over, you know; and there were many occasions when I was proud of you. It is possible that I have overlooked many of your faults; but I hope that, likewise, you have been tolerant of mine.

You have had the best preparation for the future that has been possible for your school to give you. You have enjoyed associations with classmates and teachers which you will remember all of your life. After graduation some of you will enter colleges or universities, some will go into business or industry, and some will begin the fine career of home-making. It is my belief that, no matter what your occupation may be, the greatest satisfaction will come to you from doing well what each day brings you to do. Within each of you lies the power to make this a better world, not by great achievements alone, but by measuring up to the best that is in you as human beings.

I wish I could say, "I'll see you all next year;" but, as that will not be possible, it's "Good-bye, good luck, and I'll miss you."

Sincerely,
Carolyn Lambert
Senior Class Sponsor

Dear Students,

On behalf of the Senior Class of '48 I wish to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to the faculty and student body of George Rogers Clark for their unlimited co-operation and understanding throughout our four school years.

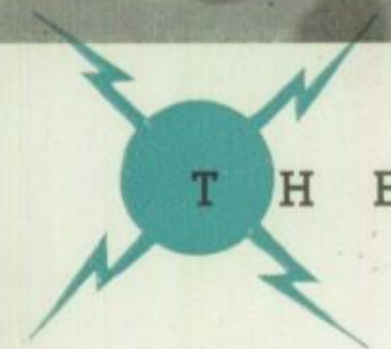

It has been evident to every member of the Senior class that the Clark faculty is one of the finest groups of instructors in the state of Indiana. The past and future accomplishments of the class can be directly traced to the superior guidance and counsel of the Clark teaching staff.

Although there have been innumerable persons contributing to our successes, Miss Carolyn Lambert deserves a major share of the credit. Her invaluable assistance has been a guiding beacon, lighting the way through these most crucial years.

My thanks also goes to the students of GRC for their help in making our social activities such outstanding financial successes.

Speaking for my fellow classmates, I wish the best of luck to all following classes. They cannot help but succeed with such a fine school background as is provided by George Rogers Clark.

Sincerely,
George Mandas
Senior Class President

Good-natured Pete Koushiefes poses for the photographer . . . Ann Wilkinson and Bernardine Biel, prepared for a hard day's work, enter the Donnelly plant in Chicago . . . This proves that Louis Kaplan, Bob Hanne- mann, and Dale Schroeder were at "The Carousel" . . . Life at Camp Nissaki provided an exciting time for a group of senior girls . . . Enid Morrison, Frank Long, Bert Bahlke, and Mary Lou Wright take time out to pose for the photographer.

With 152 couples promenading down the floor of Madura's Danceland, color, dignity, and prominence were added to the Junior Prom, "Aloha," as the attendance at that time was the largest of any prom given by Clark students.

Held at the Danceland for the second time of GRC history, the Prom topped all social events of the year. Guests were the graduating seniors, the Class of '47.

Eddie Kay and his orchestra provided the music, and leis were given out during the dance. Phil Wetnight, Sally Lou Creswell, Ted Wiley, and Barbara Miller led the grand march which highlighted the Junior Prom of 1947.

Bob Auer crouches in terror as Arnold Studer prepares to deliver the "fatal blow."

SENIOR PLAY

Holding the attention of its audience throughout the entire production, the Senior Play, "Through the Night," by Ryerson and Clements, proved a great success when presented November 14 before a full house.

The plot combined almost every situation imaginable — including love, humor, and mystery. Providing the traditional "love triangle" were Pat Davidson, Dale Schroeder, and Phil Wetnight. Instant laughter rewarded Ted Economou, blundering country detective, and Jeannine Lange, young socialite searching for a rugged man. Arnold Studer, Bill Korenchik, and Bob Auer took part in the mystery angle.

Thanks to the efforts of Miss Oza Cunningham, dramatics director; Miss Beatrice Northstrum, settings supervisor; Mr. Darwin Eret, orchestra director; the stage crew; and, of course, the cast; the Senior Play will be a long-remembered hit.

Plotters, Allan Rankin, Arlene George, Jeannine Lange, and Pat Davidson, look on as unsuspecting Ted Economou smuggles "The Owl" out of the house.

Phil Wetnight, Pat Davidson, and the other members of the Holbrook household prepare to leave for a yacht party when Bill Korenchik, posing as a city detective, is introduced to the group.

HERE 'N THERE

During a trip to St. John, Indiana, Clarkites from the Junior Class reenact one of Pearl White's adventures . . . The girls' physical education classes rehearse marches for a PTA demonstration . . . Students indulge in hard studying in the school library . . . Big money is exchanged by Glenn Corbin at the grade school cookie counter . . . Here's another candid of the library . . . See how slowly they enter . . . Notice the difference in leaving . . . All the latest gossip can be heard at the Clark Store . . . Even a big injury does not keep George Helm, held by Jack Barnett and Art Clark, from posing for the avid cameraman . . . Members of the Ulster League take time out for relaxation . . . Who doesn't know that smiling face of George Argus? . . . Geography classmates settle down for another hour of study.

GRC students are indeed fortunate in having such a wide variety of extra-curricular activities. The many clubs and organizations offer some interesting feature to every single person. Such activities are encouraged, for it is the busy student who advances in school and in later life. Clark's complete, well-rounded program improves not only the individuals, but it also improves the school as well.

Membership in a club produces a friendly feeling of co-operation between students and faculty. Thus, for all concerned, activities provide a wholesome and constructive enterprise.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Sponsors o o o

Under the capable direction of President Dick French and Principal R. B. Miller, the Student Council experienced a full year of service to the school.

Composed of forty-six home room representatives, the Council conducted many successful projects. One of the most notable of these was the improvement of the Student Panel. Vice-president Bob Hannemann headed the panel of 77 students. The combination of the panel plus ninth hours proved more satisfactory than either one did alone.

Safety problems, including congestion in the stairways, running in the halls, and too much noise in the halls, were discussed and suggestions for improving these conditions were made.

The Council lent $1200 to the stage crew to pay for the rheostatic system which was installed in November. The money, which was returned, will be used to buy a public address system in the near future.

LIBRARY CLUB

Recorders o o o

With service as its aim, the Library Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Harriet Lake, librarian, and her assistant, Miss Alice Merrit, completed a busy year. The members of this worthy organization work before or after school, at noon, or during a study period taking attendance, checking books in and out, repairing books, and aiding students in their selection of books.

They also arrange attractive displays in the library according to current events of the year.

The club sponsored a bird circus in October, which enabled them to purchase new books and magazines for student use.

The officers elected for the year were Rita Gilman, president; Joan Bunchek, vice-president; Marilyn Brady, secretary; and Carol Corbin, treasurer.

Roy Wilson, junior and a club member, gave a number of books to the library.

ART CLUB

The Art Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Beatrice Northstrum, serviced other school organizations by making posters and signs to advertise their activities and events.

Organized in February, the following officers were elected:

Pat Hadley, president; Mildred Hlavach, vice president; Ann Frances Stasny, secretary; and Mickey Ribovich, treasurer.

The members worked on various art projects during their meeting which were held after school.

Many contests were entered which brought honors to the club and school. Nancy Sutherland, junior, won two gold keys for her outstanding work. Others who received keys were Marilyn Davidson, Dorothy Kacer, Dorothy Peters, and Mary Smerek.

Mary Jane Golbreath was given a certificate of merit in recognition of her work. Many students won awards for their poppy posters.

Y-TEENS

Enlarging upon the theme of the club — Service — the Y-Teens again came through with flying colors.

Under the policy of the point system, the girls were requested to render some service to make themselves worthy as members in this nation-wide organization.

The girls were divided, according to the type of work preferred, into four groups signifying different types of service.

The girls were aided in their projects and activities by Dorothy Adams, president; Eugenia Voreacos, vice-president; Roma Atchison, secretary; Donna Ralph, treasurer; and Miss Margaret Ide, sponsor.

Projects of the year consisted of the donation of three Christmas baskets to needy families in the area; the sale of poppy tags; and the presentation of the Easter assembly, a skit revealing the customs and ideals of this holiday.

The initiation of new members was held in February at an inspiring candle-lighting service. Other social events consisted of the annual weiner-roast at the beach to acquaint new members with the other girls; a Hi-Y-Y-Teen Valentine Party; a lecture on hair-styles and make-up by Rudolph; an enlightening discussion of football by Coach Arvo Antilla; the organization of bowling teams; and meetings of the city-wide Inter Club Council. Through this function the girls achieved a closer union with the girls of other schools.

HI-Y

Together with its president, Don Hannemann, and sponsor, Mr. Paul Wilkinson, the Hi-Y fulfilled its theme and purpose which is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian living."

Throughout the year, they raised money for the Restoration Fund. The boys pledged over $200.

The members took part in three important conferences during the year. They attended the Fall District Conference in Gary. In December, 12 boys traveled to Indianapolis to attend the State Hi-Y Conference; and in the spring they traveled to Crown Point to attend the Spring District Conference.

Several assemblies during the year were sponsored by the Hi-Y; and in March they sponsored the annual home-room basketball tournament.

This year for the first time the Hi-Y held Easter Services which were conducted by the boys themselves.

FORUM CLUB

News Commentators o o o

The Forum Club, under the guidance of Mr. Arthur Erickson, presented several guest speakers and held numerous discussion groups in co-operation with the Clark-Franklin Parent-Teachers' Association this year.

Mrs. Ethel Victor, representative of the Association for Family Living, discussed the topic, "Adolescents and Parents." Some of the points of her talk were dating, school work, going steady, smoking, and choice of friends. Following Mrs. Victor's speech, the audience was led in a general discussion by Miss Veva McAtee, Dr. John L. Ferry, Miss Pearl Yocham, Dorothy Adams, and Mr. Erickson.

The Forum Club held several panel discussions centered on the subject of home games in the Civic Center, the price of tickets, and the use of the gym by students on Saturday.

Mr. Paul Wilkinson, guidance counselor, talked on how athletic funds are spent.

Dr. Roland Schmidt, assistant superintendent of the Standard Oil Company, was a guest speaker at an evening meeting in January. After his talk, a technicolor movie, "Oil for Tomorrow," was shown.

Members of the Forum Club toured Lever Brothers and the new research laboratory at Standard Oil as its final event of the year.

Arnold Studer, president, led the Forum Club through a successful year. Bill Korenchik and Dale Schroeder served as program chairman, while JoAnn Endres fulfilled her duties as secretary.

SPANISH

Foreign Correspondents o o o

Mexico, Spain, Central America, and South America are very familiar to Spanish students in Miss Hazel Holland's first-and second-year classes. Students in both classes wrote to boys and girls in Latin-American countries and learned first hand about the habits and customs of the people. "La Luz" (a newspaper printed in Spanish), Spanish readers, and cross-word puzzles stimulated a greater interest in the language. Playing games and singing songs in Spanish were activities enjoyed during the regular monthly meetings.

Both classes attended a fiesta at Hammond High early in the year. The president of Hammond High's Spanish Club, a girl from Chile, talked about her native country.

Mr. Keith Eggers, a representative from the Latin-American Institute in Chicago, spoke to the classes about the opportunities for bi-lingual students in America and Spanish-speaking countries.

In the spring of this year, both classes went to Indiana Harbor for a dinner of hot tamales, tacos, enchiladas, tostados, and leche.

A picnic was held for both classes as the final event of the year.

The officers who led the first-year club through an active year were Jo Ann True, president; Lynn Riehle, vice-president; Mary Helen Oak, secretary; and Lindabelle Byers, treasurer. Officers of the school-year club were Marjorie Peterson, president; Theodora Economou, vice-president; and Dolores Kowalski, secretary-treasurer.

Sponsoring a dance, movies, and exploring ancient Rome!

These were just a few of the activities which made a successful year for the Latin Club under the sponsorship of Mrs. Rebekah Eddy. At the first of the year the members of the Latin I and II clubs elected Mella Kessler and Richard McClaughry, respectively, to lead them through the year.

At Christmas time the clubs combined to have a party to celebrate the season. They apparently did not believe in superstitions; and on the ominous day of Friday, the thirteenth of February, a dance was held after the Emerson basketball game. The dance was appropriately named "Caesar'n Swing," and silver offerings were given as the admission fee.

On April 16, students of both years sponsored a movie, "The Last Days of Pompeii."

At the various meetings, the activities consisted of seeing movies of Rome, studying the Rome history and mythology, singing in Latin, and exploring the Latin language for derivatives of English words.

The clubs ended a prosperous year with a party for both classes.

PHYSICS CLUB

Mechanics o o o

With the problems of atomic power and jet propulsion deciding a major part of the fate of the world of tomorrow, the Physics Club has become more important and proved both worthwhile and entertaining to its members.

Keeping in step with the fast advancement of modern science, the physicists quickly formed the Phys-Kids Club in September, at which time the constitution was drawn up.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Paul Wilkinson and the guidance of its president, Steve Dulack, the club held several meetings where movies were shown and talks were given on a variety of these modern problems.

The club traveled to the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago in March. A trip was also planned to the distillation department of the Standard Oil Company in April.

In May the group went on a sight-seeing tour of Youngstown Steel while attending the open house sponsored by the company. The members viewed the different steps in the processing of steel.

RADIO CLUB

Electricians o o o

Radar, telegraphy, and the radio theory!

Having these topics to hold the interest of its members, the Kilocycle Club, sponsored by Mr. Paul Wilkinson, completed its eleventh year of activity.

The 1947-48 club was organized in November, when the constitution was drawn up and the officers were elected. President Don Fitz presided over the meetings with the aid of Bob Matusko, vice-president; and Bob Ullrich, secretary-treasurer.

The members spent the majority of the year learning more of radio theory and gaining experience essential to amateur radio operation. The da-dits of Morse Code became familiar to them through the repetition of sending and receiving signals.

To further their knowledge on radar, a trip was planned to the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago in March. In the same month the group traveled to Chicago to go on a tour of radio station WMAQ.

A few members worked towards obtaining a radio license.

POWDER HORN

Script Writers o o o

Conscious of the swift pace in the progress of electronics, Powder Horn staff members followed through with a theme of television.

Production of the yearbook began at once under the direction of Eugenia Voreacos, editor-in-chief. Striving to keep costs and time of production at a minimum, the PH staff, guided by Miss Loeta Walters, sponsor, started to work by setting up a dummy copy of the annual early in the year.

The subscription campaign, led by Dorothy Adams, proved to be a success when 511 Clarkites made down payments for their books. One hundred sixty advertisements were sold by George Mandas and his advertising staff. Fred Lukmann topped the records with $158.50 to his credit.

Those who devoted time on the staff included Roma Atchison and Mary Linda Burnett, class editors; Mary Helen Oak, Donna Ralph, and Ann Wilkinson, club and organization editors; Bob Hannemann and Don Hannemann, sports editors; Theodora Economou and Jimmie Harden, special feature editors; Dale Schroeder and Martha Ann Whelan, artists; Bernardine Biel, Lillian Gasenica, Loretta Goginski, and Veronica Vine, typists; and Beverly Blastic, Walter Hadley, Mary Ann Huspek, Louis Kaplan, Evelyn Latiak, Gloria Lukus, and Ed Svitek, feature writers.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

Announcers o o o

Having a well-balanced team in all departments, the members of the National Forensic League worked hard to carry on its tradition of good speech.

The team attended many conferences, among which were the DePauw Extemporaneous Conference, the Wabash Oratorical Contest, and a meet at Purdue University.

The NFL state finals were held in April at Terre Haute, Indiana.

Members with their respective departments included Beverly Hoppe, Gordon Smith, and Caroline Swenson, dramatic; Sheila Goldstein, Ella Rhee Kissen, and Richard McClaghry, oratorical declamation; Bob Adams, Bruce Cox, Walter Hadley, and Vernon Lynn, humorous readings; and Dick Cravens and Raleigh Vobach, extemporaneous.

George Mandas represented Clark in the annual American Legion Oratorical Contest and Raleigh Vobach was entered in the Northern Indiana Districts of Rotary International Conventions.

DEBATE

Masters of Ceremonies ○ ○ * ○

The varsity debate team, under the coaching of Mr. Arthur Erickson, sponsor, tried many new things this year in the debating field.

The team traveled to the Purdue Conference in Lafayette, and to Indiana University in Bloomington to gain more knowledge on the question of compulsory arbitration in all labor disputes.

The varsity was composed of two teams. The affirmative was carried on by Sheila Goldstein and Beverly Hoppe as one team, and Dick Cravens and Caroline Swenson as the other. The negative was upheld by Bob and Don Hanneman as one team with Ella Rhee Kissen and Raleigh Vobach completing the list.

In addition to being members of the Calumet Debate League and Metropolitan Debate Union, the team helped form and initiate a Calumet Discussion League which will be instrumental in making decisions without an overabundance of arguing.

Keeping up their reputation of being a school team that participates in community affairs, the varsity gave many demonstration debates for local civic clubs such as the American Legion, Lions' Club, and Whiting Woman's Club.

To the people behind the scenes, the stage production staff, goes much of the credit for the smooth performances presented in our auditorium. Unseen, they continue to render valuable services which insure successful stage productions.

The 44 people on the stage crew, headed by Mike Horvat, stage manager, are always ready to serve the grades, clubs, or various high school groups whenever called upon. Periods are so arranged that every period of the day a few members are available.

A varied selection of activities is offered to stage crew members. Painting sets, controlling lights, applying make-up, and caring for properties and costumes are but a few of the essential tasks performed under the capable supervision of Miss Oza Cunningham, dramatics instructor. Always willing to learn new and different techniques in the art of stage production, they achieve higher skill in the necessary fundamentals.

A sum of 120 hours of stage work is required for a stage letter. A member with an additional 120 is rewarded by a bar which is placed upon the letter.

SAFETY AND SERVICE CLUBS

Censors o o o

Although given little public notice the Service Club has proved itself a valuable organization at Clark, for this club serves the students and the faculty at all times.

It has as its main duty the task of supervising the noon hour of pupils who bring their lunches in the elementary grades.

Under the able supervision of Miss Ellen Viney and Mr. Edwin Martin, who supervises the boys who are on hall patrol, the Service Club has become one of the most helpful organizations.

The Patrol Club has turned in its usual splendid record of essential service to the school. Under the guidance of Mr. Edwin Martin, each boy in the club had assigned hours during which he performs his duty of safely guiding students across streets. Some members kept order among the fans during the football games.

As a reward for their hard work members of both organizations receive letters and monograms after putting in the required number of hours.

Weather Forecasters o o o

Although members of the Junior Red Cross, sponsored by Mrs. Shirley Wilson, school nurse, receive little recognition for the work they do, they have the satisfaction of knowing that theirs is a job well done: that of helping unfortunate people in the Calumet area as well as overseas.

The first project of the year was sponsoring a dance, "The Touch-down Ball." Proceeds went into the Red Cross fund.

The Clark High School JRC Chapter, headed by President Donna Ralph, adopted the Carmelite Home in Hammond as their main project of the year. For Christmas, the high school held "2-cent day", a new innovation, and with the money contributed by the students, they purchased two crates of oranges for the Home. Several nice Christmas toys were purchased for needy children in the Calumet area and Christmas gifts were sent to former Clark students in Parramore Hospital.

Educational gift boxes were again filled this year. Hand towels were hemmed to be put in "health kits" for children in the Polish Junior Red Cross. Several thank-you cards and letters were received from children in Greece, Holland, and France.

One afghan was completed and turned into the city-wide JRC council. Smoking tables, checker-boards and checkers, cribbage-boards, Chinese checkers, 100 braile covers, and 10 pairs of wool trousers were also turned in to the council.

Arlene George, senior, was elected secretary of the city-wide JRC Council, while Sophomore Donna Kaban served as secretary of the Community Welfare Board.

BATON GIRLS

The five drum majorettes of '47 wore brief white satin outfits with blue-braid trimming, white beany hats with blue and white plumes, and white leather boots.

The baton twirlers, consisting of Betty Barrix, Mary Ann Dzurovcik, Pat Hadley, Jeannine Lange, and Pauline Murovich led the band during the football season with a "V" formation.

The Clark majorettes also performed in the Hammond Civic Center during the May Music Festival. While they held the attention of the large crowd, the combined bands played "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Mary Ann and Pauline were the new additions to the baton twirlers and will stay on through the following years, while Betty, Pat, and Jeannine will have graduated. This was the largest number of majorettes Clark has ever had.

Sound Technicians ○ ○ ○

Clark's Senior Band finished up another busy year with the spring concert, May 26. Mr. Carlyle Snider, director, and the 63-piece unit presented a varied program.

Colorful performances added much pep to the football games. The marching band, led by George Mandas, drum major, furnished half-time entertainment for four games. A 24-piece pep band livened up the basketball games.

Mr. Frederick Ebbs, director of the Hobart High School Band, was the guest conductor at the mid-winter concert given January 21. Highlighting the program was the "Unfinished Symphony" by Franz Schubert.

The organization journeyed to Valparaiso on February 21 to compete in the annual state solo and ensemble contest. Fourteen ensembles and eight soloists won first-division ratings. The band also won a first-division rating at the state band contest.

An exchange concert was played with Hobart High School in April.

ORCHESTRA

Symphony of the Air o o o

An active and full program!

This was the aim of the Clark Senior Orchestra this year as the musical organization played for school productions, joined Hammond High for combined concerts, and planned everything from parties to picnics under the direction of Mr. Darwin Eret.

When school opened last fall, the first act of the group was to elect the officers. Elaine Pavelchak, president, was assisted by Lillian Gasenica, vice-president, and Pat Easter, secretary-treasurer.

Christmas brought the annual party with a wide variety of refreshments and entertainment.

During the year the orchestra played between-act music for the senior and junior plays. They also accompanied the choral groups and soloists in the operetta, "Pickles."

As spring rolled around, activities were at a peak. In March the organization traveled to Crown Point to play an exchange concert with Crown Point High School. May saw the group play a series of joint concerts with the Hammond High School orchestra. The music consisted of compositions written through the ages. Also, for the second consecutive year, the orchestra presented a joint concert with the vocal department.

The group enjoyed a picnic at the Indiana Dunes State Park at the end of May where everyone relaxed in the fresh air and took a needed rest.

The end of the school year witnessed the orchestra playing for Baccalaureate and Commencement.

VOCAL MUSIC

Singing Commercial Artists o o o

The best in music and entertainment — this might well be the motto of the vocal music department, for under the direction of Miss Wilma Range, it has certainly lived up to this standard.

Early in the year a group of vocalists participated in a Clinic Chorus which provided entertainment for the Annual Teacher's Convention in Gary.

Thirty-six members of the department traveled to Chicago in October to attend "The Chocolate Soldier." The Mixed Chorus took part in WGN's Citizens of Tomorrow radio program.

The vocal music department presented for the second time a mid-winter concert in co-operation with the orchestra.

"Pickles," a three-act operetta, was presented by the combined group in March. This musical comedy was set in gay Vienna during modern times. A wealthy widow's search for her long-lost daughter was the central plot. Colorful gypsies highlighted the performance.

Leading roles were portrayed by Mercedes Erickson, "June Pennington"; Walter Hadley, "Captain Kinski"; Dorothy Horst, "Lady Vivian Delancy"; Ray

Kammer, "Arthur Crefont"; Richard Moore, "Jennison Jones"; Dolores Seehausen, "Ilona"; Allan Rankin, "Jigo"; and Roy Wilson, "Jonas H. Pennington."

The Triple Trio sang for the American Legion Auxilliary, Eastern Stars, and Tri Kappa, while the Double Sextet provided music for the Kindergarten Mothers' Club. The combined Triple Trio and Double Sextet, or the Girls Ensemble, participated in a PTA program, sang carols at Minas and in Clark halls at Christmas time, performed in the Easter assembly, and wound up their activities by singing for Commencement.

The Triple Trio, Double Sextet, and seven soloists won superior ratings in the annual music contest in late winter. The Treble Clef, a new group composed of freshman girls, also sang for the Kindergarten Mothers Club.

All members of the chorus classes participated in the City Music Festival in May, and sang for Baccalaureate.

For the first time in the history of the vocal music department, a point system was set up and vocal music awards given to deserving students.

GIRLS ATHLETIC CLUB

Sports Reporters o o o

To provide fun and exercise and to stimulate healthy minds and bodies are the aims of the Girls Athletic Club. Softball, baseball, basketball, and volleyball are the favorite major sports participated in by the girls during the school year.

The GAC was led this year by Miss Leota Kenzie, sponsor; Zita Catchur, president; Helen Levent, vice-president; Geraldine Obuch, secretary; Ruth Brazina, treasurer; and Betty Zehme, head-of-sports.

Every year the members of the club choose deserving girls to be given awards for sportsmanship, athletic ability, and mental attitude. Other awards are given for service according to a point system set up by the club.

In spring the GAC sponsored the annual home-room volleyball tournament which gave each girl in high school, regardless of membership, a chance to participate in active sport. Also in spring the club conducted a formal initiation.

As a service to the school the girls sold refreshments at the basketball games.

C CLUB

All Star Sports Broadcasters o o o

The C Club, headed by Ralph Porter, president, drafted and adopted a constitution, for the first time in its history, which effected a more efficiently run organization.

The members sold programs at all the home football games netting them a handsome profit which made it possible to feature a band at the annual C Club dance in December.

The club sponsored the annual "In and Out" game at the end of the basketball season, and in March, arranged the showing of a popular movie, "Iron Major."

Later in the year, the annual father-and-son banquet was held at which time awards were presented to outstanding athletes by Coaches Emerson Aldrich and Ed Shields, co-sponsors of the club.

Clifford Kender was twice honored by receiving best mental attitude awards in both football and basketball. George Kozak was given the most valuable award for football, while Howard Usselman won the same award for his participation in basketball. The free throw award was given to Norm Banas. Ralph Porter was chosen to receive the C Club all-around award.

Boys declared the most valuable in the other sports were Dale Schreoder, wrestling; Fred Eberly, cross country; Louis Kaplan, tennis; and Joe Gasenica, track.

CHEERLEADERS

Yea Blue! Yea White! Yea Team!
Let's Fight!

Leading this cheer and many others throughout the football and basketball seasons were Marilyn Brady, Sally Lou Creswell, Pat Davidson, and Eloise Haugh. The girls applying new motions and many new yells and songs, helped make GRC's cheering section loud and peppy.

White sweaters and blue skirts constituted the costumes worn for football, while new uniforms of royal blue jerkins and skirts with white blouses were worn by the girls for basketball.

Marilyn, Sally Lou, Pat, and Eloise planned and put up the decorations for the C Club dance and served at the annual athletic banquet held in the spring.

The "B" squad and next year's varsity cheerleaders are Juanita Freeman, Janice Hrapchak, Pat Kowalski, and Betty Zehme.

Although no championships have been won by Clark athletic teams this past school year, we nevertheless are proud that the boys representing the school in all sports maintained the high caliber of sportsmanship that has made George Rogers Clark High School a leader in the field. They never quit fighting . . . a true pioneer spirit . . . no matter what the odds.

The athletes as well as the students and fans displayed a loyalty that substantiates our contention that athletics means more to everyone than just winning a game or two. With a continuance of proper attitudes and a desire to be a champion, Clark should be on top again in the near future.

Clark's varsity football squad started off the season poorly with two defeats but revived to win fourth place in the Western Division of the NIHSC, and gain a season record of three wins, four losses, and one tie.

That the Pioneers were respected can be seen from the fact that they gained eighteenth position in the state ratings.

After losing, 6 to 2 and 27 to 13, to Morgan Park and E. C. Washington, respectively, the Antillamen hit the victory road and conquered Hammond Tech, 30 to 0, and Kankakee, 25 to 7.

E. C. Roosevelt, Indiana state champions, then broke this two-game winning streak by delivering a 28-to-0 shellacking to the Blue and White. Hammond High faced the Clarksters in their next tussle and gave them their final defeat by a 13-to-7 score.

The Clark gridders then tied the power-packed Whiting Oilers, 13 to 13, and went on to down Gary Tolleston, 12 to 0, in the Western division playoff.

Next year's team should prove a fairly powerful aggregation. Varsity line veterans Norm Banas and Paul Thompson will return, and aided by experienced boys such as Art Clark, Damon Franklin, George Helm, and Conway Hotchkiss, should make a sturdy forward wall.

The backfield will be slightly weaker than this year's but will undoubtedly prove itself a versatile group.

Jim Smith, varsity halfback, will be back for another season assisted by Jim Figler, Ed Siska, Paul Wetnight, and Ray Wolendowski, all of whom have shown considerable promise.

The Clarksters of 1947 proved themselves worthy of bearing the title of the "Fighting Pioneers" and will always be remembered as a small but determined group of gridmen.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Although Coach Ed Shields' varsity basketball squad won only 12 of its 23 contests during the 1947-48 season, it did register several outstanding performances.

The Blue and White, plagued by inconsistency all year, looked its best as it downed state semifinalist South Bend Central, 67 to 51, in the Hammond holiday tourney. It was in this contest that Howard Usselman set a new Clark scoring record for a single game. "Lefty" tallied 26 counters to better the record of 24 points set by George Peters of the class of '47.

Probably the greatest game played by the Clarkites was that against Hammond High on February 7. The Pioneers trounced the Hammondites, 55 to 41, in a fast-moving ball game. This marked the first time since 1944 that a Clark cage squad had defeated a Wildcat team. The Blue and White also registered two regular-season victories over both Hammond Tech and Whiting as well as wins over well-regarded East Chicago Roosevelt, Gary Horace Mann, and Chicago Hyde Park, a newcomer on the Pioneer schedule.

In the sectional tourney the Shields men trounced Dyer, 61 to 24, in their first contest only to be defeated, 56 to 52, by Hammond Tech in the quarter-finals.

Only three boys, Mike Andel, Norm Banas, and Lodie Labda, will return to bolster next year's varsity squad. Andel and Banas were regulars on this year's team and Labda also saw considerable action. The seven varsity cagers who will be graduated in June are Jerry Bauer, Dick French, Cliff Kender, Everett Levitt, Al Lorenzen, Ralph Porter, and Howard Usselman.

GRC's "B" squad coached by Mr. Joe Franklin, gained a season's record of six wins against seven losses. Several of the reserves who showed promise of aiding the Pioneer cause next year include Jack Barnett, Joe Fasiang, Byron McClure, Jim Smith, and Paul Wetnight.

THE RESERVES

If reserve records mean anything, the Pioneers of 1948, '49, and '50 ought to be the most outstanding team in the region, for the Freshman and Sophomore teams each lost only one game all season.

Directed by Coach Emerson Aldrich, the squads were victorious over such powerful fives as Hammond High and Morton. Most promising members of the teams include Anthony Brenkus, Jerome Figuly, Damon Franklin, Jerry Kozak, Alex Lourik, and Steve Stavros.

Coach Joe Franklin's Settlers won 6 of 13 contests. This record is not too outstanding and belies the fact that the "B" squad showed signs of possessing quite a bit of basketball talent in several games. Jack Barnett, Jim Smith, and Paul Wetnight will undoubtedly prove valuable to next year's varsity.

TRACK

With only seven varsity trackmen returning from last year's squad, GRC's cindermen experienced a mediocre 1948 season.

Coach Joe Franklin's charges engaged in eight dual contests and one triangular meet throughout the year and participated for the first time in the annual Indianapolis Relays.

The Blue-and-White runners for the second consecutive year held night meets which were run off under the lights of the Pioneer athletic field.

Although the lack of veteran material hampered the team's attempts to build up winning scores, several cindermen consistently registered stellar performances. They include Mike Andel in the quarter mile run and high jump; Allan Doris in the mile run; Roy Isberg in the half-mile run; Everett Levitt in the dashes and broad jump; Ralph Porter in the dashes, low hurdles, and broad jump; Ed Svitek in the mile run; and Paul Wetnight in the pole vault.

As the larger part of the squad is composed of underclassmen, Coach Franklin is anticipating a successful 1949 season.

GOLF AND TENNIS

Clark golfers, under the direction of a new coach, Mr. Carlyle Snider, failed to win a match in a three-meet schedule. The GRC squad will be back strong next year, however, because the '48 campaign will see the return of four veterans of a six-man team.

Those boys returning for another season are Chris Condes, Michael Golden, Ed Schoon, and Joe Wichlinski. Although veterans Steve Dulak and Richard Kristoff will be missed, the four returning boys should be able to better the team's reputation.

The GRC racketmen, coached by Mr. Edwin Martin, improved greatly over past years by winning three matches, dropping four, and gaining a tie for second place in the four-team sectional. Clark will be ably represented next year, for only three men of a ten-man squad will be lost through graduation.

The three boys who are graduating this year are Louis Kaplan, who was voted most valuable in tennis, Walter Hadley, and Bernard Sczypchak. Lettermen Bruce Cox and Darrel Quigley will be the two mainstays of the team aided by strong support from Frank Bokori, Dick Cravens, Cliff Mitchell, and Bill Ullrich, all of whom saw steady action this season.

CROSS COUNTRY - WRESTLING

The Pioneer cross-country team, under the direction of Coach Ed Shields, won two of its five dual contests and placed 13th in the annual Hobart Invitational Meet. The GRC harriers were plagued with inconsistency throughout the year, but they saw a very promising performer in Fred Eberly, who with Jerome Figuly and Ed Svitek, will see action again next year.

The Pioneer grapplers, coached by Mr. Arvo Antilla, won six matches, lost five, and tied one. They gained a fourth-place rating in the NIHSC tournament and placed tenth in the state match which was held in Lafayette.

Veterans who will return to bolster next year's squad are Oliver Campbell, Art Clark, George Helm, John Jendzel, Don Miles, James Fauth, and Bob Malone.

G A C S P O R T S

Any girl interested in sports and exercise was invited to play and enjoy the games in GAC sports though the main participants were members of the Girls Athletic Club.

"The Dream Floor"

Because this floor was once a tree
We bring you this story in poetry
A tree that toppled by a woodman's axe
Lives once again under a film of wax

Shorn from its bark and shiny leaves
Now an air-cushioned floor that actually breathes
Let's join together and drink a toast
To a floor that's known from coast-to-coast

NIGHT

It's sleek and smooth with a golden glisten
What tales it could tell but prefers to listen
Ballroom lights that shine at night
Reflect a glow like candlelight

Yes, Danceland's floor was once a tree
That stands today as a symphony
The floor at Madura's is all the rage
To tell the truth it improves with age
